Read about Kylie and Simon.

Australia

This week on Teen Scene, we talk to three teenagers from Australia about their lives and their future plans.

Kylie Nungara, 15

My name's Kylie and I want to be an artist one day. I'm from a small aboriginal village called Wallace Rockhole. The Aborigines are the native people of Australia. Wallace Rockhole is in the center of Australia. A lot of tourists come here to learn about Aboriginal history and culture. My dad has a store. He sells paintings and postcards. Last month, Dad sold one of my paintings to a tourist from New Zealand. I was really happy. Next weekend Mom and Dad are going to take me to meet an Aboriginal artist. Her name is Carina and she teaches art to teenagers. She's very creative and she's really kind and friendly, too. If I watch her painting, I'll learn a lot. I'm going to ask her a lot of questions! If I practice my painting, maybe one day I'll be a famous artist.

Simon Tanner, 14

I live in Hervey Bay, on Fraser Island. It's a beautiful, tropical island on the east coast of Australia. The beaches are fantastic here and in the center of the island there is a rainforest. I love living here because I'm really interested in animals and the environment. There are hundreds of different trees, birds and animals in the rainforest. My mom knows the names of most of them, because she's a wildlife photographer.

It's the school vacation next week. I'm really excited because Mom's going to take me to Lake Mackenzie. We're going to take photos of the birds on the lake. I think we'll see some amazing birds and animals. One day I want to be a photographer, too.
