Α	Read each sentence. Check the sentences that have future meaning.
	☐ 1 Hannah is studying English this month.		6	I'm taking my daughter out for dinner tonight.
	☐ 2 Nancy studies English in the evening.			I'm eating dinner with my daughter. Can I call
	☐ 3 You should call me tomorrow.			you back?
	☐ 4 He might have time to see you later.		8	The class always starts at 2:00 and finishes at 4:00.
	☐ 5 My parents are arriving at 10:00.		9	We may stay another week in Paris.
В	Complete the conversations, using will or be going to.
	A: Would you like to go running in the park? I in about half an hour.
	B: That sounds great. I you there. leave meet 2 A: It's midnight. Why are you still reading?
	B: We a test tomorrow.
	 3 A: Do you have plans for tomorrow? B: Yes. I
B: OK. I
	5 A: I'm thinking about getting a new laptop.
	B: Really? Well, I you mine. I love it.
Α	On a separate sheet of paper, rewrite the statements and questions, changing wish + the past perfect to should have or ought to have.
	She wishes she had had children. (ought to)
	 She ought to have had children. Do you wish you had studied Swahili? (should) I wish I had gone to New Zealand instead of Australia. (ought to) Do you wish you had taken the job at the embassy? (should) I wish I hadn't studied law. (should)
В	B Answer each question with a statement using wish + the past perfect. 1 Steven said, "I should have stopped smoking." What does Steven wish? He wishes he had stopped smoking. 2 Lauren said, "I shouldn't have bought this car." What does Lauren wish? 3 Carl's wife said, "You should have bought a convertible." What does Carl's wife wish? 4 Ms. Baker said, "The students should have studied more for the exam." What does Ms. Baker wish?			