

1. Read the reviews. What kind of book is Dark Night?

Last week's TV

By Scott West

My favorite show was a documentary on Channel 9 about the Amazon rainforest. The camera work was awesome and the wildlife was incredible. There was an interview with the documentary-makers after the show. It was interesting to hear what it was really like in the rainforest with all that equipment in the heat. Watch it again on e-viewer if you can.

Movie of the week

By Brandon Jeffs

I was at the movie theater three times last week. Movie of the week for me was the new sci-fi movie Space Wars. The special effects were awesome and the costumes were great, too. Watch out for the biggest space battle ever. It's SO cool. If you like sci-fi movies, you'll love this!

Book of the week

By Yara Carvalho

I was in the library last week and there was a book in the horror section called Dark Night. It's by a new author called Julia Frentzen. What a brilliant read! It was SO scary! She creates a really scary atmosphere throughout the book, and it was awesome to be inside the head of the main character, Darren, for 196 pages. Read it if you dare!

2. Confirm a text's content Circle T (true), F (false), or NI (no information).

1. Scott's favorite TV show was a nature documentary. (T) / F / NI
2. You can't watch Scott's favorite show on e-viewer. T / F / NI
3. Brandon was at the movies twice last week. T / F / NI
4. Brandon's favorite movies are sci-fi movies. T / F / NI
5. The author of Dark Night is a friend of Julia's family. T / F / NI
6. Dark Night is a funny book. T / F / NI

3. Scan for information Answer the questions.

1. How does Scott describe the camera work in the documentary?
He describes it as awesome.
2. After the documentary, what was on the same channel?
3. How many times was Brandon at the movies last week?
4. What kind of movie is Space Wars?
5. How many pages are there in Dark Night?
6. Who is the main character in Dark Night?